Kushalnagar, May 30 (Akshay & BCT)- Days after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai mentioned at the World Economic Forum Summit in Davos that a mini-airport or a heli-port will be constructed on a 49.5-acre Agricultural Department land adjacent to Sainik School, Kushalnagar (Koodige), a high-level team of officials and technical experts visited the land this morning.

The team was led by Managing Director of Karnataka State Industrial & Infrastructure Development Corporation (KSIIDC) Limited Dr. M.R. Ravi, Project Technical Advisor Brig. D.M. PM lauds Mysuru student

Narendra Modi appreciates Uttarakhand-born student studying in Mysuru who excelled in Kannada

Mysuru, May 30 (SBD&BCT)- Emphasising India's diversity, Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the 89th episode of his monthly radio broadcast 'Mann Ki Baat' yesterday said the varied attire, cuisine and culture in different regions is the hallmark of India.

Kalpana

He cited the example of Kalpana, a native of Uttarakhand, who learnt Kannada in Mysuru with the help of tutor Prof. Taramurthy in just three months despite being visually-challenged and scored 92 marks in the class 10 examination.

"Our country is a rich treasure house of many languages, scripts and dialects. Varied attire, cuisine and culture in different regions is our hallmark. As a nation, this diversity strengthens us and keeps us united. I wish to share with all of you a very inspiring example related to this, which is that of our daughter Kalpana. But her endeavour is filled with the true spirit of 'Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat'."

Sharing Kalpana's story, Prime Minister said Kalpana is originally from Joshimath in Uttarakhand.

She had been suffering from TB earlier and when she was in class 3, she also lost her eyesight. Kalpana passed her class SSLC examination in Karnataka recently but the surprising thing is she did not know Kannada until some time ago.

(See PM on page 6)

Many more people can help Kalpana fulfil her dreams

"I was surprised to listen to PM Modi's 'Mann Ki Baat' where he spoke about Kalpana and my efforts in tutoring and mentoring her. I was not expecting this to reach the Prime Minister and I am really happy that now many more people can help Kalpana fulfil her dreams. I was elated to hear my name in the PM's address though I did not need that kind of publicity. I am humbled. First it was 'Mysooru Mithra' and 'Star of Mysore' that published Kalpana's story and was later picked up by other newspapers and media. I really hope that all this will facilitate Kalpana's bright future."

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Incentives have been contended to be an unnecessary vice that clouds workers' inherent desire to do good work and diverts their attention from the purpose of the incentive to the incentive itself. It has been thought of as an unwarranted expense of the taxpayer's money. This is true with the use of an extrinsic incentive in isolation, such as a reward to mark good behaviour and encourage the repetition of it, which may not necessarily be an efficient way of incorporating incentives. With just an extrinsic incentive in a classroom context, a teacher may carry out a task with dislike or resentment towards it, to just meet the criteria for the reward that is in store. In the short run, that might be feasible but in the long run, it will inevitably lead to burnout for the teacher when they keep working towards a goal without finding satisfaction in it.

Human beings are complex and greatly ruled by emotions and intrinsic motivations (doing something for the inherent satisfaction of it). Therefore, incentives have to be designed around taking into account both intrinsic and extrinsic motivations of the workers: in this case, it would be the teachers, principals, and education officials.

5.8-pound mushroom might be world's largest

Adelaide: A 14-year-old Australian is waiting to hear from Guinness World Records whether the nearly 6-pound mushroom he found is the largest in the world.

Jasper Les said he found the 5.8-pound porcini mushroom while walking home from school in Adelaide Hills, South Australia. "I was just amazed. I've never seen one that big or even close to being that big," Les told 9News.

His mother, Melanie Les, said she was equally shocked to see what her son brought home.

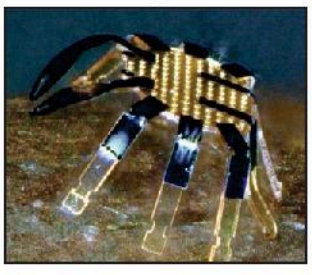
Jasper Les said he is keeping the exact location of the mushroom's origins a secret.

The family applied to have Jasper's discovery recognized as a Guinness World Record. The longest edible mushroom was a 1-foot, 11.2-inch Pleurotus eryngii grown by Japan's Hokuto Corp. in 2014.

The teenager said he plans to eat a portion of the massive mushroom and sell the rest.

"The challenge is on now to try find a bigger one," he said.

Smallest remote-controlled walking robot



Evanston: A team of Northwestern University Engineers announced the invention of the world's smallest remote-controlled walking robot, which measures only one-half millimeter wide.

The engineers said in research published in the journal Science Robotics that their crab-like robot is smaller than the thickness of a penny.

John A. Rogers, an engineering professor at the Evanston, Ill., School said it took his team a year and a half to develop the tiny robots.

The robots can walk, twist, turn and jump. They are made of a malleable shape-memory alloy, which moves by changing shape when heat is applied.

Rescued snake lays eggs

Artificial incubation helps 13 eggs to hatch

Nanjangud, May 30 (Chandru &KS)- A snake rescuer, who rescued a Spectacled Cobra from a well, found that the snake was pregnant and helped the eggs to hatch through artificial incubation after seeking advice from experts.

Snake Basavaraju of Golur village in Nanjangud taluk is not only a snake rescuer but also a wildlife conservator.

On Mar. 14, one Siddappa of Horalawadi saw a snake fallen inside the well in his argi field and informed Snake Basavaraju about it. Basavaraju, who climbed down the well, saw that the snake was a Spectacled Cobra, a venomous snake and rescued it.

After reaching the top of the well, Basavaraju opened the bag, in which he had rescued the snake and came to know that the snake was pregnant as its belly had eggs. As it had become dark, Basavaraju brought the snake to his house to release it into its natural habitat the next day morning.

The next day morning, he saw that the snake had laid 18 eggs. He later released the rescued snake into its habitat and informed about the snake eggs to Herpetologist Dr. Ravindranath Aithal, popularly known as 'Snake Doctor' in Puttur, Chandru Halladakeri of Nanjangud Yuva Brigade and teacher Yatish.

Basavaraju, under their guidance prepared to provide artificial incubation to the eggs and after 75 days of successful incubation, 13 out of the 18 eggs hatched and snakelets emerged from them. Basavaraju has released the snakelets into the forest area.

Snake Basavaraju is popular in and around Nanjangud town and is involved in rescuing snakes be it day or night. He is always there to provide relief to many who calls him on his phone whenever they spot a snake. He rescues the reptiles and release it into its habitat.

A few days back, a vehicle had hit a bull belonging to the temple resulting in the horns of the bull getting broken.

Basavarju, who brought a veterinarian, got the bull treated for its injuries. He can be contacted on Mob: 99458-77757.

About Spectacled Cobra

The Indian Cobra (Naja Naja), also known as the Spectacled Cobra, Asian Cobra or Binocellate Cobra, is a species of the genus Naja found, in India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Nepal and Bhutan. This highly venomous snake is a member of the "big four" species that causes the most snakebite deaths of humans in India.

The Indian Cobra is revered in Indian mythology and culture, and is often seen with snake charmers. It is now protected in India under the Indian Wildlife Protection Act (1972).

When confronting potential aggressors, including humans and mongooses, the Indian Cobra is usually slow to bite. It prefers to use the threat display and sharp hisses. Bites to humans are common, however, because of accidental encounters and excitability on either side.

The Spectacled Cobra is a good swimmer and active both in daytime and night. They feed on rodents, toads, frogs, birds and snakes. Spectacled Cobra lays eggs between April and July. The female Cobra lays between 10 to 30 eggs in abandoned rat holes or termite mounds and stays with the eggs until they hatch in about 60 to 75 days. The hatchlings (Snakelets) measure between 20 and 30 centimetres (7.9 and 11.8 inches) in length and are independent from birth and have fully functional venom glands.

Police Inspector in mufti assaulted, one arrested

Mysuru, May 30- Vijayanagar Police have arrested a man on charges of assaulting Arasikere Police Inspector, who was in mufti and investigating a kidnap case.

The Inspector, who was assaulted is P.P. Somegowda while the man, who assaulted him is Mohan, a resident of S.R.S. Layout in city.

Details: Arasikere Inspector Somegowda, who had registered a case of a minor girl being kidnapped had come to a private hotel city on May 26 along with his staff Yogesh, Shashidhar and a relative of the minor girl following information that Bharathi, an employee of the hotel had information about the minor girl and the alleged kidnapper.

The Police, who collected information from the hotel owner came to know that Bharathi was residing in S.R.S. Layout in city. They then took a hotel employee along with them to the house of Bharathi only to find the house locked.

In the meantime, Mohan, who was heavily drunk, questioned the Police staff who were in mufti as to why they had come to his area and began hurling abuses. Inspector Somegowda told Mohan that they were Police and had come to investigate a kidnap case.

But Mohan, in a drunken stupor slapped the Inspector and said "Even if you are a Police, you have to take my permission to enter my area," and abused them using foul language, following which Inspector Somegowda lodged a complaint at Vijayanagar Police Station.

Based on the complaint, Vijayanagar Police arrested Mohan and produced him before a Court.

VOICE OF THE READER

Dr. Sudha Murty as President

Sir,

Reading K.B. Ganapathy's Abracadabra titled 'Guess who will be the President and Vice-President of India!' in yesterday's Star of Mysore, I was reminded of an incident at a Book Club function (Oct.12, 2018) where Dr. Sudha Murty was the chief guest.

The previous day (Oct. 11, 2018), Star of Mysore had carried an Abracadabra titled 'Eureka! The President of India 2022 !' suggesting that Dr. Sudha Murty be made the President of India in the 2022 election for the Office.

At the Book Club function, I grabbed the opportunity in the middle of the proceedings and told the chief guest Dr. Sudha Murty about the previous day's Star of Mysore article where a suggestion was made that in 2022, she be made the President of India.

To this, her instant response, pointing at Ganapathy who was also present at the function, was: "Why not, if Ganapathy's Cabinet agrees for me?"

Her remark led to loud clapping by the audience, most of them ladies, and cheering all around.

Continuous learning is key to success in medical profession: Dr. M.A. Shekar

'VAGUS-2022' UG medical conference concludes

Adichunchanagiri University Vice-Chancellor Dr. M.A. Shekar seen lighting the lamp to inaugurate 'VAGUS-2022' UG medical conference in city on Saturday as others look on.

Mysuru, May 30 (MK, DM& SSM)- Maintaining that continuous learning is the secret of success in medical profession, Adichunchanagiri University Vice-Chancellor Dr. M.A. Shekar said that the ultimate goal of doctors should be to ensure the physical health of the entire society.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'VAGUS-2022,' a UG medical conference, organised by Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI) as part of its centenary celebration in 2024, which was held at the MMC&RI Platinum Jubilee Hall in J.K. Grounds here on Saturday.

Stressing on the need for doctors to be caring towards patients visiting them for various health issues, Dr. Shekar said that having a good circle of friends and fellow professionals will help a lot in life.

JSS Medical College Principal Dr. H. Basavana Gowdappa said doctors are recognised for their work and continuous learning helps in getting recognition.

Stating that medical students should understand that failure is the stepping stone for success, he said that students must be ready to accept success and failures on equal terms. Doctors should serve the society with total dedication, he added.

The two-day VAGUS-2022 concluded last evening with workshops, competitions and cultural events. More than 830 students from various Medical Colleges took part in the event and showcased their talents at the conference. Prizes were distributed to all those who had won in competitions.

Presiding over the valedictory, MMC&RI Dean and Director Dr. H.N. Dinesh said, "This kind of medical conference for UG medical students will not happen anywhere. The first 'VAGUS' conference was held in 2018. Due to COVID-19, the College could not hold the event for the last two years. But this year it was a success."

He said that the conference has encouraged the students to realise their area of interest and pursue it in the coming days. "

MMC&RI faculty Dr. Shubratha S. Hegde, Dr. G. Siddesh of Sigma Hospital, MMC&RI Students' Association members M.O. Sushmitha, V. Arjun, Sumanth Chandramouli and others were present.

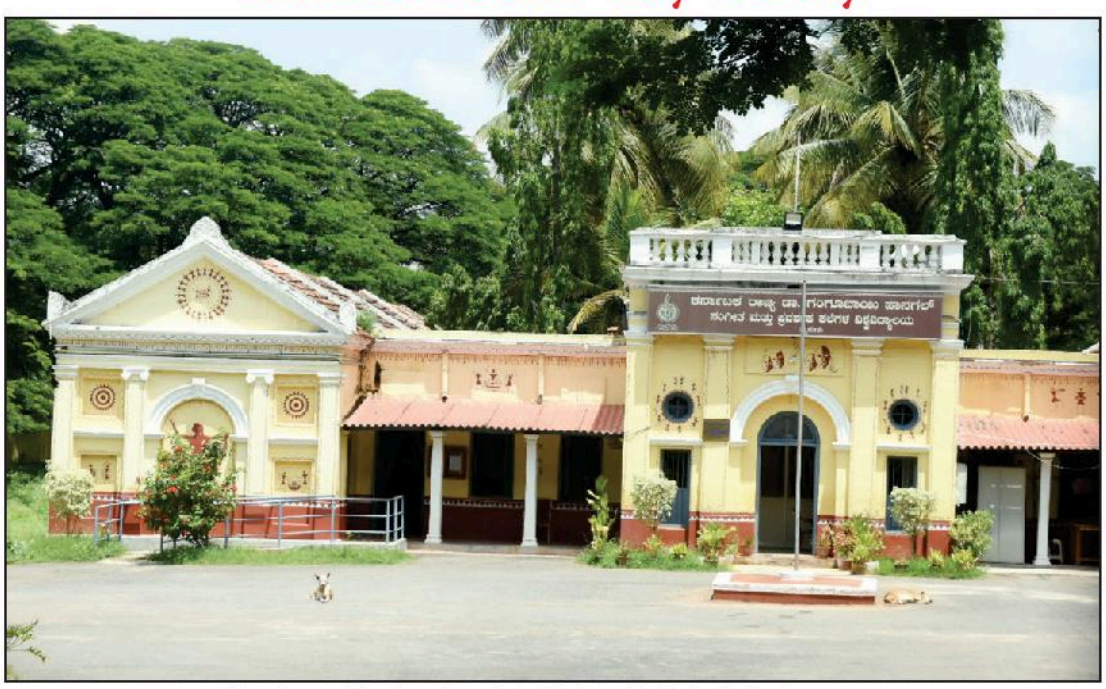
Sacked Music Varsity staff demand reinstatement

Protest by 21 non-teaching staff enters 100th day today



Music and Performing Arts University in Lakshmipuram.

Mysuru, May 30 (MTY&SSM)- Leaders of several organisations and non-teaching staff of Karnataka State Dr. Gangubai Hangal Music and Performing Arts University in city took out a protest rally this morning as part of their agitation entering 100th day today.

They had launched the agitation on Feb. 21, 2022, demanding reinstatement and regularisation of jobs of 21 temporary non-teaching employees who were relieved from their posts.

The temporary non-teaching staff, who had been working at the University for the last 13 years, have not been paid their salaries for the last 13 months and were denied entry into the University premises since November last year. They were unceremoniously sacked from their jobs on Feb. 7, 2022. Music University Vice-Chancellor (VC) Dr. Nagesh V. Bettakote suspended all the 21 non-teaching staff after a Syndicate meeting held in February.

The agitating employees had managed to secure the support of elected representatives and NGOs. When the Government did not respond positively to their protest, they began a relay hunger strike from Apr. 18.

With no response from the Government and the VC, who had removed them from their jobs without any valid reason and proper explanation, the protestors, obtaining support from various organisations, took out the jatha to DC Office and submitted a memorandum seeking justice.

On its part, the Government stated that the Varsity had appointed 21 persons on temporary basis without following any regulations and hence their salaries did not get approval from the Finance Department. Following this, their services were terminated.

Leaders who extended support to the protestors said that the Music Varsity has become a place of corruption. "Under the Constitution, before suspending any employees from their job, valid reasons and explanations must be followed. The VC is acting like a dictator and is making his own rules and regulations, violating the law," they added.

Both the projects will give a new dimension to the Kodagu tourism. "Kodagu District features among the top 10 tourist destinations in India and if the air connectivity is ensured, there is scope for accommodating 20,000 to 50,000 tourists every weekend and this will include foreign tourists who come for circuit tours," Dr. Ravi told reporters.

The KSIIDC is the nodal agency for the development of airstrips across Karnataka. The 950-metre or 1.5 km strip would have basic minimum facilities like the airstrip, terminal with security post, fencing and security by local Police, Dr. Ravi added and said that Rs. 100 crore to Rs. 120 crore would be needed to develop the land into a full-fledged airstrip or a heli-port.

Silt from Harangi Dam

Inspecting the land, Project Technical Advisor Brig. Purvimath said that the area is undulated and needs levelling. MLA Ranjan told the team that whatever silt that will be removed from the Harangi Dam in the coming months will be dumped in the airstrip. The entire area will be levelled with silt mud and this will solve the problem of lack of land to dump the silt from the Dam, he added.

Interacting with the district officials, Dr. Ravi said that for the work on the airstrip to begin, the land has to be transferred to the KSIIDC. The land is at present under the possession of the Agriculture Department and it must be transferred to the Revenue Department headed by the Kodagu Deputy Commissioner, who will initiate the transfer to the KSIIDC, he explained.

Land transfer

Work will begin soon after the land transfer, he added, directing the officials to complete the process. "A 50-acre flat land is not available anywhere in Kodagu that is a hilly terrain. This land is ideal for the airstrip and the heli-port and we will get it for sure. The budgetary needs will be fulfilled by the CM who has already assured help," MLA Appachu Ranjan said.

"Dr. Ravi had served as the Kodagu Assistant Commissioner and it was his initiative to build the Kodagu District Offices Complex in Madikeri and now an airstrip is being constructed," Ranjan added.

When reporters asked about the possible objection from environment activists to the airstrip, the MLA said that no one should have any objection as the airstrip will be built on Government land. "We have been trying for air connectivity to Kodagu since decades and only now things are taking shape. We will bring the airstrip at any cost," he reiterated.

Three-day AITUC convention calls for working class unity

Mysuru, May 30 (PM&BCT)- A three-day State-level convention of All India United Trade Union Centre (AIUTUC) began in city yesterday. This is the 11th such conferences being organised in Karnataka.

The convention is discussing the problems faced by workers and the general public in the light of the Union Government implementing various anti-labour policies exploiting the labour force. By bringing amendments to Labour Welfare Laws, the Government is committing atrocities on the working class of the nation, they alleged.

As part of the convention, a workers' procession was flagged off from Town Hall and returned to the same venue after passing through various streets of the city. Later, a public meeting was held in Town Hall premises where AITUC General Secretary Amarjeet Kaur inaugurated the conference and spoke.

Amarjeet Kaur accused the Union Government led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi of trying to curtail the powers of trade unions. The Government is pushing back India to a time dating back to 150 years. Kaur said and called for the unity of the working class.

"There is uncertainty haunting the working class people and those from the low and mid-income group category, thanks to the economic policies of the Government. The Government is initiating reforms and these are driving the working class jobless. Added to the burden is inflation where prices of all essential commodities have skyrocketed," Kaur noted.

Other leaders like CPI State Committee Secretary Sathi Sundaresh, Mysuru District AITUC General Secretary H.R. Sheshadri too spoke on the occasion. AITUC Karnataka State Committee President Com. H.V. Ananta Subbarao presided. AITUC State General Secretary D.A. Vijayabhaskar, N.K. Devadas, H.B. Ramakrishna and others were present.

The conference deliberated on organising protest rallies against the pro-corporate policies of the Centre and to counter the efforts of the Centre to break the unity of the working class.

Engaging young minds with coding, robotics

City school opens robotics and coding lab mapped as per ICSE curriculum

Mysuru, May 30 (SBD&BCT)- In today's technology-driven world, it is imperative for students to stay equipped with tech innovation around the globe. While learners of science and mathematics have been aided by computer education from the early years, technology and engineering have not received much exposure in the school curriculum.

Now computer education has become an integral part of transforming education and has given scope for robotics in the classroom. The idea behind implementing robotics is to not only teach students the basics of Robotics but also open a whole new world for them with exciting opportunities that they would not have access to otherwise.

Shantala Vidyapeetha on Sheela Marga at Siddarthanagar has launched a 'robotics and coding lab' to help students learn coding and programming. The facility has been opened for students from classes 1 and 9. The facility was inaugurated by Primary and Secondary Education Minister B.C. Nagesh recently.

There are over 500 students in the school who will make use of the unique facility which the school authorities are claiming to be the first of its kind lab in India. The lab has three robots and the facility has been designed according to the ICSE curriculum for Classes 1 and 9.

Today's technology-driven world demands the youth to be well-versed in the process of automation and subjects such as robotics, artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML). "Realising the need to keep up with the demands of the tech world and make students ready to take on a future where robots are expected to become a part of their daily lives, we have created this robotics and coding lab," said M.S. Santosh Kumar, the head of the school.

The robotic lab is designed in such a way that the students can learn and perform several curricular and extracurricular activities, and subject lessons using these three robots. The lab is AI-enabled and has face recognition technology and has been created by Bidyut Edutech, a company based in Indore and the robot is named 'Bidyut".

According to Rahul and Amit Malu, founders of Bidyut Edutech, theirs is the first company in India to teach coding and robotics with a real robot and Shantala Vidyapeetha is the first school in the country to adopt this technology for learning.

School authorities said that when students programme physical robots, it becomes easier for them to understand the intricacies and capabilities of robots. They learn the skills needed to create precise and accurate instructions and have fun while learning lessons.

These robots can sing and dance or give expressions and they can guide the students in coding and programming. The students can do a lot of practical using this lab. In the coming days, students will have 45 minutes of practical classes that are in sync with their curriculum.

It was nothing but a fairytale run for Gujarat Titans in IPL-2022 as the Hardik Pandya-led side went on to win the title in their debut season.

Gujarat's highly-rated bowling attack, led by skipper Hardik Pandya (3/17) himself, limited a formidable Rajasthan Royals batting unit to 130 for nine, after losing the toss.

In the final, it was Hardik who took three wickets with the ball, including the prized scalp of Jos Buttler. In the end, Gujarat went on to chase the total with seven wickets in hand and 11 balls to spare.

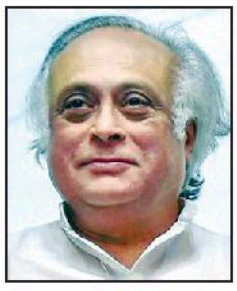
Rajya Sabha elections from Karnataka Assembly

BJP fields Nirmala Sitharaman, Jaggesh; Congress Jairam Ramesh

Nirmala Sitharaman

Jaggesh



Jairam Ramesh

Bengaluru, May 30 (Agencies)- The Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) yesterday nominated Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman and Kannada actor-turned-politician Jaggesh as its candidates for the Rajya Sabha elections from Karnataka in the elections to be held on June 10.

The terms of Sitharaman, K.C. Ramamurthy and Jairam Ramesh will expire on June 30. Oscar Fernandes died in September last year.

On its part, the Congress has again nominated Jairam Ramesh for Rajya Sabha from Karnataka.

The BJP, which has a total of 121 MLAs in the Karnataka Legislative Assembly, is guaranteed to win two of the four vacant seats from Karnataka. A candidate requires a minimum of 45.2 votes to win the polls from the 224-member Assembly.

BJP that had chosen two new faces out of the four candidates that it fielded in the Legislative Council, sprang a surprise by choosing actor Jaggesh.

Sitharaman has been re-nominated to contest from Karnataka. Party sources here said Jaggesh's name was neither discussed in the Core Committee meeting nor was it sent to the Central leadership.

On the possible reasons, sources said the party may be planning to utilise Jaggesh's services during the ensuing elections to the Legislative Assembly, especially in the Vokkaliga-dominated Constituencies since he has a good following.

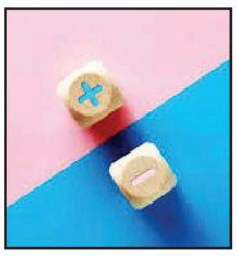
Meanwhile, the suspense over the move of political parties on the fourth seat for the election to the Rajya Sabha from the State continues.

While none of the three parties has the requisite number of votes to win the fourth seat, the Janata Dal (Secular) has announced that it will field its candidate while the BJP and the Congress are still weighing options. The last date for filing of nomination is May 31 (tomorrow).

JD(S) sources said its former Rajya Sabha member Kupendra Reddy could be the party's nominee or he may be asked to contest as a JD(S)-backed Independent candidate.

WORD OF THE DAY

Paradox



Pronunciation: PAIR-uh-dahks.
Meaning: Paradox refers to a statement that is seemingly contradictory or opposed to common sense and yet is perhaps true. It can also refer to something or someone having seemingly contradictory qualities or phases.
Origin: The ancient Greeks were well aware that a paradox can take us outside our usual way of thinking. They combined the prefix para- ("beyond" or "outside of") with the verb dokein ("to think"), forming paradoxos, an adjective meaning "contrary to expectation." Latin speakers used that word as the basis for a noun paradoxum, which English speakers borrowed during the 1500s to create paradox.
Example: "Demand for semiconductors has never been higher... Yet chip stocks are one of the worst-performing sectors in the U.S. market this year. That paradox reflects the cliff that investors see looming for the economy and the stock market...." —Subrat Patnaik and Jeran Wittenstein

THE ODD WORD

Pallasethesia

Sense of vibration.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Paddle your own canoe

Meaning: To act independently and decide your own fate.
Origin: The figurative meaning of 'padding one's own canoe' began to be used in the early 19th century. This was what was in mind of the author of The Selangor Journal: Jottings Past and Present, 1807, when reporting the lack of community spirit amongst the coffee planters in Malaysia: If the planters would unite and use their united influence they could start a bank to advance money to deserving young planters... but they won't do it. They let each poor fellow paddle his own canoe, and if he capsizes and stretches out his hand in despair for someone to save him... they won't do it.
The independence of mind implicit in the advice the phrase conveys is plain to see in two gung-ho poems written on the subject in the USA in the 1850s. Paddle your own Canoe - anonymous, printed in the Wisconsin newspaper The Crawford County Courier, 1852:
My father die, God rest his soul,
When years I numbered two,
And left me 'midst this world alone,
To paddle my own canoe.

QUOTE BOX

Everyone must believe in something. I believe I'll go canoeing.
